

This Python function breaks silently

- 1 ``def add(item, basket=[])`` — the list is built once, when Python reads the def.
- 2 Every call that does not pass a basket shares that same list. Forever.
- 3 Call it twice and the first item is still there.

REMEMBER THIS

Never put a list, dict or set in a default argument. Use None.